

From here to launch

Everything below is what actually happens, in the order it happens. No stage of this is a surprise, and nothing is decided without you.

THE BUILD

DAY 0

You approve, we start

The advance arrives and the build begins on the start date in your agreement. We gather your texts, photos and details from your current site. If you have anything extra, send it any time.

DAYS 1-7

Structure and copy

We build the full page structure and write every line of copy around your actual services, credentials, and patients. You see it as it develops — not at the end.

DAYS 7-12

Design and build

The real site, on a real URL, working on a phone and on desktop. Not a picture of a website — the website.

DAYS 12-16

Your revisions

Two full rounds, included. This is where copy gets finalized — you read every word and change anything you want. Nothing goes live that you haven't read.

DAYS 16-21

Launch

We set up hosting on your own account, upload the site and handle the switch; we'll tell you which plan to choose. The domain stays yours. Your old site stays up until the moment the new one is ready.

Two to three weeks, typically. Often faster if your materials are ready and your revisions come back quickly. We'd rather give you the honest range than a number designed to sound impressive.

THE COST

$5,850

TOTAL

$1,500

ADVANCE · RESERVES YOUR START

$4,350

AT STAGING APPROVAL

That's the whole number. No hourly billing, no change-order fees, no charge for the two revision rounds. If we quote it, we build it for it.

Two new projects start each month.

The launch date is written into your agreement. If launch is more than two weeks late because of us, your final payment is reduced by $100 for every further full week, up to $300.

What's included

Early Reservation Bonus IF AGREED BY TUESDAY, OCTOBER 13

60 days of post-launch edits included at no charge (minor updates to text, photos, and links). Typically billed by agencies as a monthly maintenance plan ($100–$300/mo) or by the hour at $150/hr.

Your area, reserved

The first practice within 10 miles to start keeps that area: for 12 months from your start date, we don't build a site for another practice of the same specialty within 10 miles.

From concept to complete site

The concept shows the design direction for your homepage. In the project, the homepage is finished with your verified details, and every other page is built to the same standard. You review every page before anything goes live.

Your whole site, one price

We counted 71 pages on your current site. All of them are included in the $5,850: we design your key pages from scratch and move every other page into the same new design. You'll get the full page list before you pay anything. The only extra: brand-new pages you ask us to add, at $125 each.

Built for phones first

Most of your patients arrive on a phone. That's where we design first and test hardest.

Speed and accessibility

Built to target 90+ on Google PageSpeed and WCAG 2.1 AA. We test both before launch and share the results with you. This also helps older patients.

Two revision rounds

Included in the price, not billed separately.

How payment works. $1,500 to start reserves your slot. The remaining $4,350 is due only when you approve the finished site on a private preview, before we switch your domain. Payment is by international bank wire in USD to our business account. We are a registered sole proprietorship in Armenia (Reg. No. 269.1030472); the invoice carries the full legal details. Everything is in a written agreement you can read before you pay anything.

YOUR PART: NOTHING TO PREPARE

We take your texts, photos, logo and practice details from your current website and public profiles, and build the full site from them. No writing, no photo shoot, no files to find.

Is there something specific you want on the site — a service to feature, a credential you're proud of, a question patients always ask? Tell us any time. The easiest moment is revision round two: you see the whole site, then point to exactly what to change, add or remove.

Photos

We use the best ones from your current site. New photos are welcome at any point, never required.

Video

If you have a tour or a patient story, send it and we'll feature it. If not, the site is designed to look complete without video.

Logo

We take it from your current site and make sure it looks sharp on every screen.

Your domain

We never ask for your domain login. At launch, you or your IT person change one setting using our two-minute guide. Prefer another way? Grant us limited access, or have your own specialist publish the site files we hand over.

Your Google rankings

We keep your page addresses or redirect every old page to its new one, so nothing you've built in search is lost.

WE WRITE IT FOR YOU

We write every page for you, starting from what's on your current site: cleaned up, reorganized, and written for the patients you want more of. You read everything before it goes live, and you can change any word in the revision rounds at no cost.

YOUR STYLE, NOT A TEMPLATE

The concept you saw shows one direction. Before we start, you choose: keep it, match your current colors and brand, or go warmer and more family-friendly. Premium doesn't have to mean dark. It means everything looks deliberate.

See it as it's built

A private progress link you can open any time; it updates as we build. Every week, a short written update with screenshots.

Everything in writing

We work asynchronously by design. Every request, every revision, every decision is written down — so nothing gets misremembered and you have a record of everything agreed.

Write whenever it suits you: between patients, at the end of the day, at midnight. You'll have a reply by the next morning your time, including weekends.

If you'd rather talk, our coordinator will call you at a time that suits you.

One point of contact

You deal with the person building your site. Nothing is passed between account managers, and nothing gets lost in a handoff.

Ready to start

Once your advance arrives, we begin the same day — no separate kickoff meeting needed.

Questions before you decide? Ask them. All of them. We'd rather answer twenty questions now than have you wondering after you've paid.
